

be provided with augmented first-aid boxes containing a wider range of medicines and resuscitative equipments. 86 long distance trains have already been provided with these first aid boxes. The frontline staff are also being trained in first aid and given refresher training as per a schedule to be updated periodically. To meet with emergency situation arising as a result of train accidents, there are Accident Relief Medical Vans (ARMVs) located at strategic places, which are equipped with instruments necessary for rescue and relief. Tool kits however, are not provided in the individual trains.

At Vizag Railway Station, one first-aid box with Station Superintendent on Duty and another first-aid box with Railway Protection Force (RPF) Assistance Booth are provided round the clock. In addition, one spare first-aid box is also available with Station Manager (Gazetted). Guards of all coaching trains on Waltair Division are provided with first-aid boxes. Inquiry reveals that none approached the on duty Station Superintendent or RPF Assistance Booth or Station Manager (Gazetted) for first-aid box on 30.1.2001.
